DAVE SHADE GIVEN DECISION

Richmond School Experiences Growing Pains

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES PLAN FOR INCREASE OF NEAR 100

EIGHT NEW TEACHERS WILL JOIN THE STAFF WITH OPENING OF DOORS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL TOMORROW FOR THE FALL TERM

Richmond Union High school will open for the fall semester tomorrow morning with between 90 and 100 more students than attended the school last term, it was estimated yesterday by Principal B. X. Tucker. The total number attending the school this year will be in the neighborhood of 700 he believes.

FACULTY MEETING

All members of the faculty gathered at the school yesterday morning at 10 o'clock to go over the final preparations for the opening of the new term.

ASSIGNMENTS MADE

The cards for all the students were made out, and routine business necessary for the preliminary days of the year. Principal Tucker assigned the teachers to their classes, and explained their duties.

NEW LABORATORY

Plumbers and carpenters were busy yesterday outfitting a new science laboratory on the first floor of the building. This addition will be a valuable adjunct, Tucker declares, as the students are taking more interest in the sciences every year, and the new department was necessary to take care of the increased demand.

NEW EQUIPMENT.

John E. Doney, printing instructor, stated that all the latest type has been installed, all machinery repaired and made ready for the embryo printers coming under his instruction.

PLANT OVERHAULED.

The whole building has been thoroughly overhauled and all necessary repainting done. The school now has a wholesome, attractive appearance to attract the children of the city back to the "three R's."

NEW UNIFORMS COMING.

Ivan Hill, commander of the cadet corps and athletic instructor of the high school, is expecting to receive the new cadet uniforms from the state early next week. In former years each cadet was forced to purchase his own uniform, but recently the state has raised funds to clothe the cadets.

SPOTLIGHT ON SPORTS

Extensive plans are also being outlined by Hill for the early fall sports. The football team will be exceptionally strong this year, as most of the old players will be back to school.

NEW INSTRUCTORS.

Eight new instructors have been added to the faculty, to fill the vacancies left by resignations or to take care of the increase in attendance.

The new teachers are: Octavia DeLap, Malba DeWitt, Rith. Girvin, Norma Landa, Gladys Nunn, Dorothy F. Osburn, Ruth Stewart, Katherine Ulrich.

THOSE RETURNING

The instructors who will be familiar to the students are: Nina L. Beauchamp, Norine Buchanan, Dorothy M. Cox, John E. Doney, Grace B. Dotts, Ella B. Eahus, Carroll Frederick, Christine Groefrena, Selina Hardesty, J. W. Hill, Ruby A. Hoefer, Beatrice Inch, M. Elizabeth Kinnear, Clara A. McLaurin, Theodore Madson, Marion Mellars, Geo. M. Mooris, William H. Nesley, Gladys V. Noble, Muriel Ogdon, Zelma Reine, Elizabeth E. Roberts, Louise Robinson, Martin E. Salmi, Helen B. Shedden, Arthur H. Shipley, A. Marion Stockton, Martin A. Swenson, Helen E. Thompson, Nellie C. Warner, Gertrude F. Weatherby, S. B. Wilson, Mabelle Woodman, Gertrude B. Woodward, and Henry N. Young.

Deeming Will Take Post In Arizona City

Word was received yesterday by John W. Deeming, for the past year, physical director of the Richmond Y. M. C. A., that his new post would be Douglas, Arizona.

Deeming stated that he will be in full charge of all physical work in the Douglas Y. M. C. A. This association, although in a smaller city than Richmond, surpases the local Y in many respects.

Deeming will start in his new position on September 1. He will leave Richmond on August 29 with Mrs. Deeming and his three childrent. Hosts of friends have been made by the Deeming family here, and all of them wish him well in his new field.

BANDITS LOOT S. F. AIR MAIL

Six Men In High Powered Car Stop Mail Truck on Embarcadero And Get Away

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.— The first big raid by postal robbers of the Pacific Coast on the United States air mail occurred here tonight when a band of six men held up the Crissey Field postoffice truck shortly after the arrival of the air mail from New York and Chicago.

FORCED TRUCK TO CURB

The robbery took place on the Embasreadero. Cutting in front of the U. S. Mail truck conveying the air mail from Crissey Field to the ferry postoffice, a big Cadillac touring car forced the truck to the curb.

DRIVER COVERED

Bernard Reiger, driver of the truck tried to draw his revolver but was covered by the guns of five bandits who surrounded the truck.

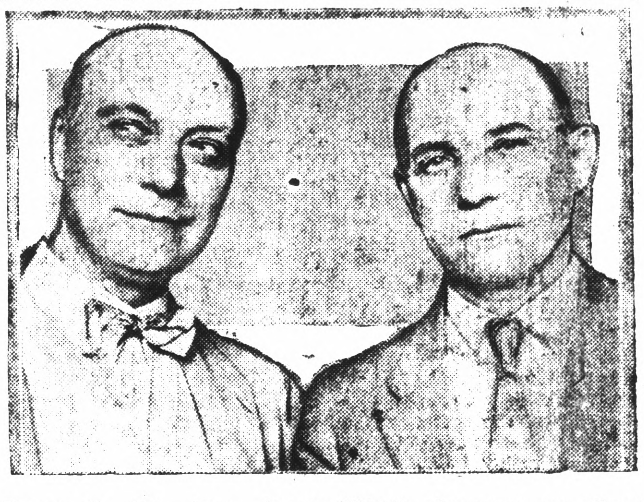
While one of the men covered the driver, the other four looted the truck, carrying 7 registered bags to their own car, which was manned by the sixth bandit.

The value of the mail will not be known until a check is made.

IN NEW SALES ROOM

With a display of the latest models of Paige and Jewett cars, Emmett Smythe, local automobile dealer, is now located in his new salesroom at 412 Macdonald avenue, formerly occupied by the Monett Motor company. Smythe has renovated the place and installed new illumination for the cars on display.

HIS LIKENESS TO FORMER MINNEAPOLIS MAYOR WINS ACQUITTAL OF ALLEGED BANDIT HELD IN BANK ROBBERY



Thomas E. Van Lear, former mayor of Minneapolis, (at left) and John B. Davenport, (right) look so much alike that Davenport was acquitted recently on a charge connecting him with the robbing of a Milwaukee bank last December of $310,000. Davenport was alleged to have been the leader of a bandit band. Defense lawyers presented Davenport's double in an effort to break down the identification of State witnesses.

Ku Klux Klan Kaptures Kapital With 100,000 Knights in Parade

BRIGHT SUNSHINE ON WHITE ROBES AND HOODS MAKES FLASHY SPECTACLE—NO DISORDERS TO MAR THE GREAT DEMONSTRATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.— Their robes and hoods gleaming dazzling white in the sun, thousands of Ku Klux Klansmen gave the national capital today the most unique parade in its history.

100,000 PARADE

Samuel D. Rich, of Pittsurg, acting grand dragon of the klan, declared that more than 100,000 robed klansmen were in the line. Police officials estimated the number of marchers to be 60,000.

American flags were plentifully sprinkled through the procession. Those who did not carry flags marched with arms folded across their breasts.

WOMEN IN LINE

Various contingents of women were sprinkled throughout the line. The women formed their own units and were not mingled with the male marchers.

A particularly heavy guard of police had been stationed between the Treasury and the monument grounds the terminus of the parade, as the route here led through a poorer section of the city in which there are numerous negro residences.

SCORES OF BANDS

Forming almost in the shadow of the great dome of the capital, a column of klansmen, sixteen abreast, led by the Pennsylvania klan, started their march down Pennsylvania avenue to the music of a score of bands.

They marched between solid lines of people that choked Pennsylvania avenue on either side. Many klansfolk lined the avenue, provided the cheers and applause that the average curious Washingtonian did not give.

NEGROES LOOK ON

There were many negroes from the capitals large colored population in the crowds that thronged the avenue. They looked on curiously, and, for the most part, silently, although here and there was some covert jeers and side remarks.

Police patrolled the entire length of the avenue at short intervals.

The West Virginia delegation of about 1000 followed the Pennsylvania contingent and carried a placard across the entire width of the phalanx, reading:

"Mountaineers are always free, today, yesterday and forever." In the center was painted a flaming cross.

OHIO OUT IN FORCE

The Ohio delegation, extending over several blocks, furnished one of the largest turnouts in the procession.

The Texas delegation was barred from the parade because the Texans failed to bring along their white uniforms. Apparently the Texas group depended on ornamental hatbands, giving the name of their delegation, to admit them to the procession. Protests were unavailing. The authorities in charge of the parade turned their thumbs down with an air of finalty.

NO DISORDERS

Not a single incident marred the spectacle which had caused extreme police precautions and aroused fears of authorities. Scores of the marchers were overcome in the stifling atmosphere, but nowhere along the line of march was there any adverse display.

Instead, the thousands who hung out from hotel windows and points of vantage down the avenue cheered the marchers on.

At the head of the procession rode a klansman on horseback, bearing a huge American flag. Two hooded knights rode behind him as

Egyptians Have Hilarious Time When Mobibs Put on Program

Fun ruled supreme when "Mobibs' Night" was observed by Richmond Pyramid of Sciots last evening a hundred and fifty members of the pyramid and visitors gathered in the clubhouse at a banquet and entertainment.

MAGNAVOX QUARTET

The entire program for the evening was turned over to the Mobibs of the order. After a short meeting presided over by Mobib George Bengley of the Richmond Pyramid, an entertainment was given which included vocal selections by the Magnavox male quartet of Oakland and numbers by an orchestra under the direction of Jack Sennet.

CHARLIE PRATT APPLAUDED.

Taking for his subject "Life and Growth of the Order," Charles Pratt of Alameda, supreme lecturer of the supreme pyramid, delivered the principal address of the evening during the course of the banquet.

FATHER OF SCIOTS.

Supreme Lecturer Pratt, who is called the "father of the Sciots," told of the origin of the first pyramid—San Francisco No. 1. This pyramid was the outgrowth of an organization known as the "Boosters," which was formed over 20 years ago by Pratt and other members of Mission Lodge, F. & A. M. for the purpose of boosting one another.

BOOSTERS GROW

Taking as its slogan "Boost One Another," the first pyramid was organized a short time later with a membership of 200 members, Pratt said. The San Francisco pyramid now has a membership of 3500, while there are 25,000 members in the state.

MOBIBS THERE.

Mobibs in attendance last night included W. W. Haggler of Berkeley, Ray Winfield of Alameda and George Bengley of Richmond. Toparch Robert Jones of Berkeley was also present. There were also visitors from all the Eastbay cities, as well as from Redding, Santa Rosa, Vallejo and San Jose.

The committee in charge of the entertainment included George Bengley, chairman; George Loher, Jr., R. Spiersch and Phil Barry. Harold Purviance and Al Curtis formed the banquet committee.

DAMAGES MAIN ITEM

The city will have to secure rights of way through 21 properties. Severance damages were set by the appraisers at about $23,000. The value of the property was fixed at between $6000 and $7000. It is believed that these prices will be acceptable to the property owners.

FRANKIE FARREN AND LEW PALUSO FOUGHT TO A DRAW IN TEN FAST ROUNDS IN THE SEMI-WINDUP—SHADE NOW ON WAY TO CROWN

Both Fighters Go Strong Clear To The Finish and Delight Fans

By W. MURRAY HANNON

Recreation Park, San Francisco

Dave Shade is better than Frankie Schoell. That much he demonstrated to the entire satisfaction of the assembled here tonight when he defeated Schoell in 10 fair to fast rounds of leather pushing.

SCORES KNOCKDOWN

Shade started well in the first round, and looked like a real fighter when he scored a clean knockdown.

DAVE SHADE

Schoell pulled himself together after this round and by the end of the third the two warriors were slapping one another about evenly.

I would give Schoell the third and fourth rounds. He had it over Shade a bit for punch. In the rest of the rounds the Californian was the aggressor, and Schoell was a bit inclined to hunt the timber.

SLOW AT FIRST

Shade won the first, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth rounds. The second, fifth and sixth were about even. It took the fighters about six rounds to get going, but from the seventh on they showed lots of fire.

PRELIMINARIES FAST

The three preliminary bouts were humdingers for speed, every one of them.'

ANOTHER WRITER GIVES ANOTHER ANGLE

UNIVERSAL SERVICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Dave Shade of California removed a serious obstacle in his path to the world's welterweight championship now held by Mickey Walker by defeating Frankie Schoell of Buffalo, New York, in a ten-round fight here tonight.

SMALL MARGIN

Shade's margin was small, a clean knockdown of Schoell in the first round and a fast finish giving him the decision.

Schoell, using a straight left with deadly accuracy staved off the California welter during most of the fight, but in the last two rounds Shade got over enough hefty punches to give him the decision.

FINISH STRONG

Schoell finished strong, as did Shade.

Frankie Farren of San Francisco and Lew Paluso of Salt Lake City fought a draw in the 10-round semi-windup. Paluso appeared to have won all the way from the San Francisco lightweight, but received no better than a draw. The decision was received with boos by the fans.

PRELIMINARIES

Other results follow:

Rufe Canion took a six-round decision over Teddy Seidman. Seidman scored the cleaner punches but showed a tendency to "dog it.".

FRANK SCHOELL

Sydney White of Sacramento beat Angel de La Cruz, Filipino bantam in a four-round preliminary that opened the show Cruz was out on his feet in the last round.

Bobby Johnson of San Francisco refereed the main event, while Jimmy Burke, Fred Bottaro and Fred Landera handled the other bouts on the card.

Mrs. Schwartz Still Maintains Charred Body is Her Husband's

AUTHORITIES, NOT CERTAIN OF IDENTITY OF MAN BELIEVED TO BE ITINERANT MISSIONARY, SEEK FRIENDS FOR SURE IDENTIFICATION

(By Universal Service)

OAKLAND, Aug. 8.—"I am so convinced that the charred body is that of my husband, Charles Henry Schwartz, that I could put my arms around the ugly thing and love it," Mrs. Schwartz, widow of the Oakland chemist who is sought for the Walnut Creek murder in which an unidentified man was killed, told a representative of Universal Service here today.

OTHERS HAVE OTHER STORY

While she made this positive statement, others were just as positive that the body was that of Gilbert Barbe, war veteran and missionary. And others were still dubious, disbelieving any theory yet advanced....

FOLLOW NEW LEADS

While Sheriff R. R. Veale and his deputies were following up new leads unearthed, in Los Gatos, District Attorney A. B. Tinning was in conference in San Francisco with A. J. Kane, head of the A. J. Kane Detective Agency, preparing to widen the search for Charles Henry Schwartz who is charged with committing the murder.

BARBE'S FRIENDS FOUND

Two friends of Barbe who were located in Los Gatos, definitely identified a picture of Barbe as that of a man who lived with them in the Los Gatos "Jungle"—a camping place for the men of the road with whom the wandering missionary cast his lot—two or three weeks ago.

MAY RECOGNIZE BODY

If these men identify the charred body of the murder victim as that of Barbe, officials said yesterday, the evidence would be regarded as conclusive.

The trail led to Los Gatos yesterday after Cecil Barker, a Placerville undertaker's assistant, recognized a frayed and blood-stained fragment of a letter found on the murdered man as corresponding in every detail to the writing of his friend, Barbe. Barker, after seeing it, placed his information in the hands of the authorities.

Barker last heard from Barbe when the latter was in Los Gatos.

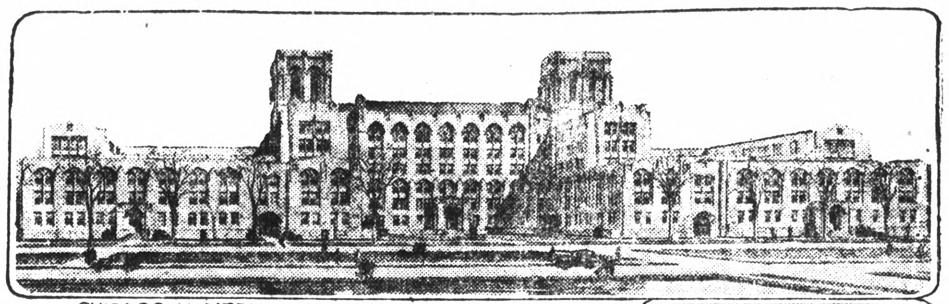
Span of Life May Be Prolonged By New Medical School



CHICAGO U MEDICAL SCHOOL

DR FRANK BILLINGS

How would you like to live 125 years?

Some great thinkers declare this average age is a probability of the future.

Down through the ages mankind has been lashed and wracked by numberless diseases. But science is felling these monsters one by one. And therein lies the hope of long and robust existence.

Millions are being poured into the battle on man's fiercest enemy. A new blow will be struck with completion of the great medical school of the University of Chicago, work on which is now rushing forward. From within those walls may come elixers of life, for science will plumb the depths of man's physical ailments. The most modern thought in medical science will be represented.

Discussing the buildings themselves, the Rail Steel Products association says they will "conform to the Gothic style of the older structures on the campus."

"They will be the last word in sanitation, convenience and durability. They are to be constructed of steel, concrete and limestone. In reinforcement alone 1,500 tons of tough, ductile rail steel bars found in many great projects are to be used. Most of the footings are already in and some of the foundations have been placed for the imposing $4,500,000 group.

"For years Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago has been one of the most enthusiastic advocates of such a school. The most costly unit of the school, the Albert Merritt Billings Memorial hospital to cost $2,000,000, is in honor of Dr. Billings' uncle, a Chicago pioneer.

"The project is the culmination of ten years of effort to provide the University of Chicago with a school embodying all that has been learned in the control of disease. It is another beacon for the guidance of mankind."

FONG WAN FORTUNATE

Despite existing conditions, the Fong Wan Herb Co., have had the good luck to receive a large shipment of fresh herbs from China. During the past two months, because the laborers at the Chinese seaports have been on a strike, and because the Chinese sailors have also quit work, merchandise shipments of all sorts have been on a strike, and because the Chinese sailors have also quit work, merchandise shipments of all sorts have been tied up. In consequence, goods billed to the United States and other foreign countries could not be shipped. Fortunately for the Fong Wan Herb Co., however, a shipment of 36 large cases of fresh herbs ordered by them left Hongkong just a week before the strike went into effect at that port. Therefore, they are able to carry on business as usual as no delay has been experienced in the importation of their herbs. They are also pleased to announce that two large cases of Wu Lung Tea have also arrived. This choice variety of tea will be listributed as formerly to friends and patrons at the nominal price of 25c per 5-oz. can.

MARVELOUS RELIEF IN FIRST CUP OF TEA

OAKLAND, CALIF.

For many months I suffered from Heart Trouble. I could not sleep and I had difficulty both in breathing and in moving around My heart palpitated day and night. At times I suffered pain. I tried physicians and drugs but got no relief until a friend recommended the well-known FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST. The first cup of tea gave me real and wonderful relief. After the first week I was able to do light work. Now I sleep and breathe normally. I fully believe that I am entirely well.

"DRY" OFFICERS MUST BUY WATER THEY USE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Employes in the office of Federal prohibition directors will have to drink something besides water if they wait for the goverment to pay for it. Comptroller-General McCarl has ruled that money appropriated by Congress for enforcement of the national prohibition act is not to be used for the purchase of drinking water because the law doesn't provide for it. The director at Milwaukee, Wis., sought to charge the government for his water cooler rent, ice service and water. He pointed out that postoffices were permitted to do, but McCarl said that in that case there was specific provision for it.

Hoover Planning New Radio Control

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Now that Secretary of Commerce Hoover has officially stated that there will be a radio conference this fall—thus disposing of persistent hints that the meeting might be postponed indefinitely, radio circles have begun to buzz with speculation as to possible results of the conference and its general effect on broadcasting. Experts predict drastic changes, particularly along the lines of power.

Department officials who admit that they will probably have several definite proposals to submit for the approval of "the radio cabinet" are not yet ready to discuss any of them specifically. All the major problems now facing the radio industry probably will be touched upon. These include the need of radio legislation, the ever-present wave-length question, the use of paid advertising over the air, a possible reclassificaton of broadcasting stations, and, of course, super-power.

CHAMP CLARK'S WIDOW SAYS BRYAN LED MANY DEMOCRATS FROM GOD

BOWLING GREEN, Mo., Aug 8.—Mrs. Champ Clark, widow of the late speaker of the house of representatives, in an article prepared for publication today, makes reference to the Democratic convention at Baltimore in 1912, in which her husband was defeated for the presidential nomination by Woodrow Wilson, when William Jennings Bryan threw his strength to the latter.

Mrs. Clark asserted that the great commoner caused "many faithful Democrats to lose communion with God "as a result of his efforts to defeat Clark" instead of keeping true to his promise to use all honorable means to nominate Champ Clark for president."

a color guard. Then came a police guard on motorcycles.

KEEP KONGRESS KLEAN

Behind the police rode Samuel D. Rich of Pittsurgh, acting national grand dragon, and imperial representatives. He was garbed in green.

Up near the front was an automobile bearing a red cross 8 feet high. Red-globed electric lights covered it and flashed in the sunlight like a flaming emblem.

Next came a delegation bearing a huge sign which read: "Keep Kongress Klean."

Another delegation banner said: "If you want to know what God thinks of us, read Revelations 7-9-17."

NOVEL FLOAT

An old-fashioned horse-drawn barouche, driven by a negro, carried some women delegates who wore on their hats, "one hundred per cent American." The women too, were in klan regalia.

A war veterans' delegation marching in the form of a cross wore trench helmets instead of hoods or white caps.

GREAT WHITE WAY

There were bands between each delegation, playing militant marches and religious marching airs. Many of them played "Onward Christian Soldiers."

The parade was the premier attraction in the city despite a ball game and an air circus.

The avenue, seen from the Treasury, was a great sea of white figures nearly a mile long to the peace monument beneath the capital, studded with about 400 American flags. The army marched steadily, two abrest, to which width the parade expanded as soon as it turned into the main boulevard.

Infantile paralysis in the state of California has been increasing rapidly since 1924, according to a communication received from the State Board of Health by Dr. C. R. Blake, health commissioner of Richmond.

RAPID GROWTH OF TRAFFIC FORCES MORE FACILITIES

SCIENTIFICALLY PLANNED PROGRAM OUTLINED BY EXPERTS AND PUSHED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HIGHLY LAUDED

Richmond harbor facilities, present and future, are outlined in the August issue of the East Bay Industries just off the press, with a comprehensive statement of the growth of marine and rail transfer traffic, which has raised the port to fourth place among Pacific coast docking points.

Leads Development.

The aticle appears in the Development section of the magazine. It gives the volume of tonnage now being handled at Municipal Wharf No. 1, and states further that 100,000 tons of sugar annually have been listed for the proposed wharf, which will be constructed as soon as preliminary details can be cleared up. The full text of the article is reproduced here.

The Article.

"Richmond's city-owned and operated waterfront facilities are no longer adequate to handle the cargo offered, and a new dock on the inner harbor, to handle heavy commodities and relieve the outer harber wharf of this class of freight is to be built immediately.

"The plans have been approved by the City Council and contracts will be let as soon as some details of right-of-way are cleared up.

"The Santa Fe railroad will begin at once to serve the new dock, and it is expected that the Southern Pacific also will hook onto the common spur track to be built by the city.

Tonnage Assured.

"Already more than 100,000 tons of sugar annually have been secured for the new wharf from the California Hawaiian Sugar Company of Crockett. This tonnage now goes to San Francisco for trans-shipment from barge to Santa Fe for eastern shipment. The Santa Fe does not serve Crockett, but has its western terminus at Richmond, whence it operates steamers to San Francisco.

"Over all Richmond docks, public and private, there passed last year more than 6,400,000 tons of cargo, mostly oil and petroleum products. In volume the Richmond port ranks fourth on the Pacific Coast.

Stimulated Program.

"The development of Richmond's municipally owned waterfront stood stationary for ten years. A year ago the Chamber of Commece employed three eminent engineers, Leeds and Barnard of Los Angeles and George F. Nicholson, chief engineer of the Port of Seattle, to make a survey and report. On the basis of this report the chamber made strong representations to the City Council, and the present renewed activity is the result."

In the fall the girl received a broken wrist, a sprained back, facial bruises and possible internal injuries.

She was treated by Dr. P. C. Campbell at the Cottage hospital. Her condition was reported improved last night.

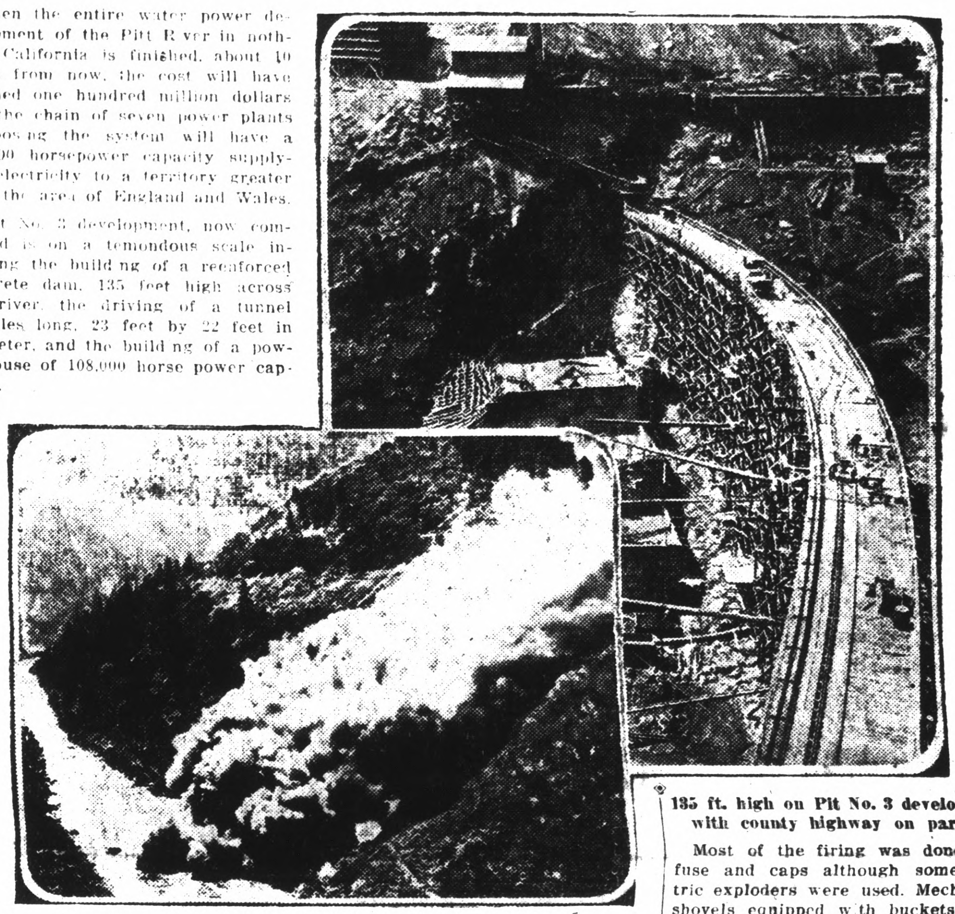
Explosives Blast Way For Great Dam And 4 Mile Power Tunnel At Pit River

When the entire water power development of the Pitt River in northeast California is finished, about 10 years from now, the cost will have reached one hundred million dollars and the chain of seven power plants composing the system will have a 600,000 horsepower capacity supplying electricity to a territory greater than the area of England and Wales.

Pitt No. 3 development, now completed is on a tremondous scale including the building of a reenforced concrete dam, 135 feet high across the river, the driving of a tunnel 4 miles long, 23 feet by 22 feet in diameter, and the building of a power house of 108,000 horse power capacity.



135 ft. high on Pit No. 3 development with county highway on parapet

Dynamiting river bank to make grade for railroad

The big dam is of reenforced concrete, two syphon spillways providing regulation and the gates having a capacity of at least 50,000 feet of water a second to take care of flood conditions. About ten tons of 40 percent low freezing gelatin dynamite were used in excavating for the dam.

From the intake structure the water will be conducted to a concrete lined tunnel 19 feet in diameter and about 4 miles long. The formation through which the tunnel was blasted was of an irregular nature, the character of the rock changing with almost every round of explosive. But astounding progress was made. During last August for instance, one of the headings was advanced 600 feet, the crew accomplishing 25 feet a day for the last three days. This is probably the first time that 600 feet of a 23 by 22 foot tunnel has been driven and timbered in a month.

The 600 foot advance took 7,625 pounds of 40 percent gelatin and 9,660 cubic yards of material was removed. Three 8 hour shifts of 22 men each did the work including the timbering. It is estimated by the engineers that the consumption of explosives was comparatively small, being only about 1 21-2 inches per foot of tunnel advanced.

Most of the firing was done with fuse and caps although some electric exploders were used. Mechanical shovels equipped with buckets holding half a cubic yard of rock were used. They are of the revolving type and have cast iron counter weights so that when the blasts are fired they can be turned around, their armor of counterweights acting as a shield. This method the engineers estimate saved much time, as it was not necessary to move the shovels back on their caterpiller treads more than 10 or 15 feet when the blast went off.

A railroad along the river was necessary to the furthering of the work and, as is customary, the side hill was dynamited to make the grade.

A typical blast consisted of 175 kegs of black powder, 1350 pounds of 25 percent dynamite and 500 pounds of 40 percent dynamite.

GASOLINE PROVES IT

Some proof of the prosperity and spending ability of American people, as compared with other nations is given by the figures just issued here which disclose that the people of the United States use seventy-nine per cent of the entire gasoline output of the world.

The per capital consumption of gasoline in the United States is 69.3 gallons a year, while in Great Britain, the second largest consuming country, the per capita consumption is but 11.6 gallons. The figures show further that one years' consumption of gasoline in China would not keep the automobiles in the United States running for eight hours. American production of gasoline has increased from a billion and a half gallons in 1916 to nine billion gallons in 1924.

At the same time the figures show that in June the United States produced 350,557 passenger automobiles and 36,096 trucks. This compares with 214,332 passenger cars and 28,117 trucks produced in June 1924 and is another indication of the growing prosperity in the United States.

For the first six months of 1925, the United States has turned out 1,856,491 passenger cars, against 1,744,534 in the same period last year, and 228,059 trucks against 192,422.

Apparently the Americans plan of government is a good one. And it is to be remembered that in the United States the great per cent of the cars are run and nearly all the gasoline consumed not by the "plutocrats" but by the rank and file of the people.

SCENERY WORTH MONEY

Objection was once made in congress to the appropriation of public money for "buying scenery". But it is to be believed that a better and more enlightened spirit now prevails there, as also in the legislatures of other states as well as that of New Hampshire. The scenic wonders of nature are recognized as valuable assets, which should be preserved for the people and held n trust for future ages. And this consideration is emphasized in a way which should be convincing to the most practical—not to say sordid—mind by the fact that these things are assets to the pocket as well as to the eye and the imagination. They are worth money, and will produce greater profit, in dollars and cents, if reverently preserved and cherished in their natural state than if they were destroyed or impaired for industrial purposes.—Washington Post.

BIG TAX CUT COMING

Senator Curtis of Kansas, republican leader in the senate, believes that a tax cut of a half billion dollars is possible and he is reported to have informed President Coolidge to that effect. The surplus for the fiscal year is estimated at $250,000,000 and Senator Curtis believes that it will be saved by the reorganization of the federal department at Washington on an efficient business basis.

Some attempt for such a reorganization will be made at the coming session of congress and Senator Curtis believes that it will take the form of a bill separate from the tax bill. The attempted reorganization will doubtless be fought by persons liable to be afforded by the reorganization. If, however, as Senator Curtis believes, a great saving can be made and the efficiency of the government increased, the weight of public opinion will be on the side of reorganization. The people want further tax reduction and a continuance of economy and efficiency in governmental affairs. They are going to have it, if possible, and they expect to get it under the leadership of President Coolidge, with the cooperation of congress.

Capes Help Give Variety to the Wrap-for-Every-Frock Idea

"Capes!" Why we thought capes were quite done for? is the comment, actually or substantially, of many women when the suggestion is made for a new frock woulderthat is made by the dressmaker that an ideal wrap for a new frock would be in the form of a cape.

The old capes have gone, to be sure, but there are new capes, and they bear the cachet of some of the smartest of French dressmakers.

It seems to be the rule now, whenever possible, to provide a wrap for every frock—and quite often this wrap takes the form of a cape. With a white chiffon frock you may like a white chiffon cape made with scarf collar edged with fringe—like the one shown in the sketch. Of more substantial build is the kasha coat of navy blue, also shown in the sketch, with a very galant cape hanging the collar, hanging in fact somewhat longer than the coat itself.

Sometimes a cape is found in company with the two pieces of a tailored suit. A smart suit of white cheviot, made with short double-breasted jacket with conventional notched collar, has to go with it a cape of white cheviot with a collar of leopard skin. There are quite military looking suits with straight tailored jackets with short circular capes that can be fastened securely at the collar line—or left off altogether. It is just a matter of pressing a few well-placed snappers.

A really very clever sort of costume consists of knitted skirt jumper blouse and cape. These capes are fairly long, but lack a few inches of being as long as the short skirt.

Kasha and crepe de chine are cleverly combined in one of the capes made for summer. The cape forms an irregular hem line with deep shades for the arms and thus shows the lining of crepe de chine. The cape itself is of almond green while the crepe de chine is of the same color. A sort of gilet with collar that stands up in medic fashion with a ruffle drooping to the shoulder is of the crepe de chine.

WALKING IN THE RAIN

DID you ever go away for a summer vacation and have it practically spoiled by wet weather?

Last year walking in the rain proved to be quite a fad with some of the residents of a smart seaside place where rainy days outnumbered sunny ones for a long period. Young girls decided that they would not have their summer ruined by the weather, so instead of moping indoors in the morning and getting together on some pretext or other in the afternoon, when they ate more chocolates and nibbled more cakes with their tea than their strict vows to maintain lead-pencil figures permitted, they walked in the rain.

Of course, for this sport good-looking rain clothes are essential. This means really waterproof shoes of some sort, fairly heavy stockings—thin silk and wool are good—a good-looking raincoat over a short frock or knickers, and a rainhat. A walking-stick is a companionable accessory to carry on a rainy-day tramp. Of course these walks are generally indulged in by a crowd of young girls together, and sometimes they walk across country to a favorite inn for lunch and back again in the afternoon.

The wet weather holiday makers aften go swimming before breakfast in the surf, providing the rain does not mean a stormy sea.

JELLIED CHICKEN BOUILLON

"THE LIMITED MAIL"

by ELMER E. VANCE

Novel by William Basil Courtney

Copyright, 1925, Warner Bros.
"THE LIMITED MAIL" with Monte Blue, is a picturization of this story by Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Jim Fowler, mail clerk, returns to his home in Crater City, after his run, to find that his wife has died in giving birth to a boy. Crushed, he wanders out into the storm. Bob Wilson, a young tramp, who had prevented the wreck of the Limited, and whom Jim brought home with him, follows him into the night. Jim, plodding aimlessly comes to the edge of a cliff, but Bob draws him back just in time. For hours the two tramp over hills and fields, one following the other to shield him from danger.

After long, long hours of blackness and turmoil the wind and the rain died and the night prepared to take a comparatively serene departure from a dripping world. But the subsidence of the storm brought neither certitude nor peace to Jim, nor rest to Bob.

They were passing grotesquely along the rim of one of the innumerable little craters that pock-marked the face of the earth—like the magnified complexion of the moon—in the wide strip of low hills and plateaus that flared out from Crater City in the manner of dried orange peels: Jim tragically erect, with bloodless face and stilted limbs; the hobo shambling after him, hands in pockets, shoulders hunched against the bite in the air, but with brightly sleepless eyes.

The touch of a poet in Bob that had made him turn hobo when the material world went against him, kept recalling to his mind in a repetitious, far-off monotone Tennyson's lines "She must weep or she will die."

He seized a jagged rock and tried to skull Bob with it.

"She must weep or she will die—she must—he must weep or he will die—he must weep or he will die—"

The gender changed without Bob being aware of it. It added to the acute realism of the scene. Dully, the lines pounded in his head until his dragging feet kept time with them, and his lips silently and endlessly formed the mournful words.

For the first time since he had fled from his tragic cotage at midnight Jim Fowler's footsteps halted—suddenly, on the edge of a crater at a point where the slope of the saucer dropped abruptly in a cleft left by some forgotten cataclysm, a hundred feet or more; a sort of three-sided well, with a reckless jumble of broken and desiccated lava in the bottom.

Bob paused silently, at his elbow. Jim glanced at him and seemed to recognize him without curiosity as to how or why either of them got here. Such a look of pain contracted Jim's face spasmodically that Bob knew that the numbness of shock was passing and a clearing mind was bringing sharper pain, more deliberate and dangerous reactions. Bob tensed himself expectantly.

Not a sob—but a queer, dry-harsh gulp, as if a thick rope were being drawn up and down in his throat—oozed from Jim's tightened lips. He jumped, straight into the narrow slit of the crater well.

Bob caught him around the waist from behind as his feet left the ground swayed dangerously forward with his thrashing body for a few seconds for the strain on his own spent body was terrific, then finally, with a wrestler's side throw that flung both of them to the [illegible]ound, wrenched him away from [illegible] first danger.

[illegible] fought like one possessed. [illegible]ier, huskier, all around athlete [illegible] was, Bob could do no more than barely keep his arms locked around Jim's body, and his face drawn down behind and between Jim's shoulder blade out of the way of his frantically tearing hands. Jim was slender, but strong with the dynamic strength of pent up emotions struggling to escape; Bob was husky, but weak with the exhaustion of twenty-four hours of ceaseless activity. Jim's fight, though in his frenzy he did not know it or realize at all what he was doing, was really with himself—his own stemmed agonies—rather than with his physical adversary. It made him a more dangerous fighter, because he was so intent upon jerking free and carrying out his intent to throw himself to destruction on the jagged crater floor below that he stopped at nothing. He tried to roll over on Bob, then to crush him on the rocky ledge; failing that, he tried to bend over far enough to bite Bob's hands, but Bob fighting desperately held him so tight that he could not get the necessary freedom of movement. Finally he seized up a jagged lava rock and tried to reach around and skull Bob with it.

Nearer and nearer to Bob's head the desperate lunges of the rock dagger came. Bob felt his strength going; he could never subdue this grief maddened man, he knew; he could not even now expect to hold his own. Jim was working freer and freer—turning, turning.

Then in the overexertion of his own bodily strength came the saving crack in the dam that held back Jim's grief, for after one vicious blow which almost grazed Bob's head Jim suddenly went limp in a storm of sobs.

Bob, with a gasp of relief, let his hands slip from Jim's body and relaxed, flat on his back, panting and staring up affectionately into Jim's unrestrained eyes.

"Oh, why, why didn't you let me jump—" Jim wept, and Bob saw in the general relaxation that brought the tears that the danger of his destroying himself was passed, for this time at least.

"Why didn't you let me jump? Why didn't you let the Limited hit that boulder last night?" Sobs melted away the last barriers of the embargo on his emotions; his unloosed misery was swift, torrential. "I thanked you for saving me for the happiest event in My Dearest's life—and—and—what you really did save me for—was hell—"

For many minutes, while the daylight came, there was no sound on this lonely crag but the raging grief of the one man, and the labored breathing of the wearied other. Presently Bob got heavily to his feet, then put his hands under Jim's arms and drew him erect.

"Come, let's go back!"

"No! No!" half staggering, half wrenching away. "I can't—I can't—I don't want to go down—there—to see that—" Jim's grief was choked with rage against the baby who had caused it.

"But there are certain things—to be done—" Bob paused dubiously; then, like a gentle prod to bend the grief crazed man to his clearer will, he reminded in a low and humbly sympathetic tone, "You cannot leave her—to strangers!"

A gasp, and a quick, startled glance that bore the full, concentrated burden of his woe; then, with his eyes closed and his chin resting on his bosom, down which his tears coursed steadily, Jim suffered himself to be led stumblng along by the unkempt hobo, whose general appearance of disreputability had been increased by the inner and outer physical strains and wear of the night.

An unimpeded view of the town, standing washed and unclothed in the early morning light, guided Bob in his general approach; but it took nearly an hour of steady walking before they had drawn close enough for him to pick out Jim's cottage from the vague decollective picture he had of it in the darkness, combined with a fine instinct for directions and places. Soon he had brought the weeping, unseeing Jim to his very front door. A thin wail filtering out from inside repulsed Jim from the doorstep as effectually as a blow from a door slammed in his face.

"No—no—" he sobbed, "I'm not going in—I don't ever want to see—to touch—it—"

"Never mind the baby," counseled Bob soberly. "You've come here to take care of—your dead—"

NASH RIDES ON CREST OF POPULARITY

SALES MANAGER FOR NASH COMPANY SAYS CONCERN IS UNABLE TO KEEP UP PRODUCTION TO MEET DEMANDS FOR NEW CARS

Riding the crest of a wave of outspoken country-wide indorsement and approval of the new special six and advanced six models, Nash Motors in July did three times the business of the same month a year ago.

Added to this, it is pointed out by the company officials, that increased production because of the heavy demand, will make August, in point of both production and sales the greatest month the Nash Motors company has ever experienced.

"In spite of a definite schedule for greatly increased production in August, at both the Kenosha and Milwaukee plants," said E. H. McCarty, general sales manager of Nash Motors, "orders already on hand are greatly in excess of the August production schedule."

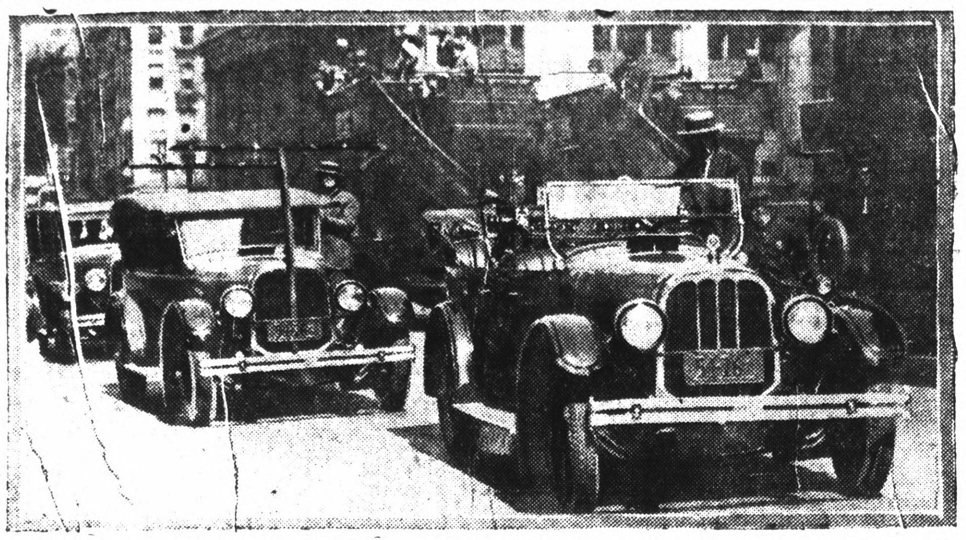
"In fact, at this time, these orders are 30 percent greater than production possibilities and this figure will be increased each day as additional orders for August delivery are received by the factory."

Nash Motors has been in an oversold condition practically every month since August of last year at which time the special and advanced six series were first announced. Month after month throughout the fall and winter, Nash Motors recorded heavy gains in production and sales while during these same months, the entire industry reported losses.

Then came the announcement in July of the refined and improved series of Nash special and advanced six models with the result that show rooms throughout the country were thronged with buyers and an incerased production program was made necessary at the factory.

Additional buildings and equipment are being built and installed to provide even greated production increases later on in the year.

RADIO-CONTROLLED MOTORCAR STEERED THROUGH HEAVY N. Y. TRAFFIC, PACIFIC COAST TRIP PLANNED



Controlled by apparatus in another automobile some yards to the rear, a radio-driven motor car steered a rather halting course through Broadway and Fifth avenue mid-day traffic. A slight collision with an escorting car was blamed on faulty housing around the steering wheel. When the control apparatus has been perfected a tour across the continent will be made. The photograph shows F. P. Houdina on the running board of the radio-driven car ready to jump to the steering wheel if an emergency should arise.

J. P. STROM PRAISES NEW LINE OF CARS

JUNE SALES OF AUBURN AUTOMOBILES RUN UP TO $1,700,000 SETTING NEW RECORD FOR 25 YEARS OF BUSINESS

There has been a great deal of interest displayed by many Richmond automobile enthusiasts of late concerning the performance of eight-cylinder automobiles. Before taking on a line of eight, connection with the Hudson-Essex—J. P. Strom has taken into consideration all makes and angles before deciding upon the make he wishes to sell.

The Auburn line was decided upon because of price, style, cost of operation, performance and the 25 years of Auburn automobile existence. This company being one of the oldest established concerns in business today.

Strom delivered two of the cars this week and has several orders booked with the factory for immediate delivery.

The enthusiasm with which Auburn cars have been accepted this season is attested by the fact that $1,700,000 worth of new Auburn cars were sold in the month of June.

This is an increase of $300,000 worth of Auburn cars over the month of May. In numbers of cars sold, June was also the greatest month in the history of the company.

Sales were limited only by production as every Auburn dealer has many unfilled orders on file.

The success of Auburn during the present year has been one of the marvels of the automobile industry. People everywhere are enthusiastic ove the new Auburn models and content to await their turn for delivery in preference to taking delivery of some other make of car not so desirable in their eyes.

The volume of unfilled orders on file with present Auburn dealers and the great number of new dealers turning to the Auburn franchise indicates continued capacity production.

Tense Dramatic Film at Richmond

Ramon Martinez, one of the wealthiest men in San Francisco, entered the worst underground dive in the city for the purpose of ransoming his kidnapped son.

"Have you brought the money with you?" demanded the leader of the gang fiercely.

"No," was the response. "I will give you a check."

The gansters laughed in derision. "That trick won't go here," they retorted. "It's cash or—

As Martinez was about to leave the members of the band halted him and gathered together for a consultation. It would not do to let him go in this manner, for he might set the police upon them. So they found a way out of the difficulty.

"We'll leave you here until the check is cashed," they told him.

Other features on the some program include "Lovemania," an Al St. John comedy scream; 'Kinograms' visual news of the world.

Musical Comedy Farce, "Our Wife" Is Replete With Fun and Hilarity

With an entirely new offering the Willis West Revuette will again be the outstanding attraction of the big triple bill at the California theatre today.

"Our Wife," the title of the new tabloid musical farce comedy, is replete with comedy situations and smart dialogue. A feature of this Sunday's revue will be the singing of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" by Don Smith, with special arranged Irish dances by the dainty dimpled dancing beauties, and the initial appearance of Bobbe Deane, the new comedienne, who comes to replace Fontella LaPierre.

Some of the specialties and songs in this week's playlet are "Raggedy Ann," "Will You Remember Me," "I Can't Stop Babying You" and many new dance novelties. The comedy portion of the show is in the capable hands of Willis West and Meade Sigler with Don Smith as the likeable juvenile.

"Our Wife" is a merry mix-up of husbands, wives and babbies with Marvin Hammond and Bobbe Dean as the cause of all the family trouble.

VAUDEVILLE

In Buster Quillan & Co. vaudeville will see the greatest bunch of juvenile talent ever congregated on one stage. The act is the fastest singing and dancing aggregation ever assembled and it is all action from start to finish. Each individual is an artist by themselves with an unlimited amount of personality, while Buster, who is the big "Boss," is destined to become one of America's greatest singing and dancing comedians. They are a sure cure for the blues and should be seen twice or three times.

One of the most popular instruments used in vaudeville by the many artists is the piano accordion and Cammarata billed as "The Wizard of the Accordion" is truly a great artist on this instrument. He plays both popular and grand opera airs that are sure to please the most fastidious.

SCREEN FEATURE

"The Uninvited Guest," which tells the story of castaways on a South Sea Island is a thrilling romance of love and peril, filmed in natural colors in the tropcs, with remarkable undersea photography. It was directed by Ralph Ince and the cast includes such favorites as Maurice (Lefty) Flynn, Jean Tolley, Mary MacLaren and Louis Wolheim.

Other features on the some program includes "Look Out," a Cameo comedy; "Kinograms;" Carl Richard's California orchestra; Larry Canelo at the organ.

Dirt Eliminated In 3 Ways By New Devices On Buicks

Dirt has been the chief enemy of the automobile engineers for years. It is dirt, entering the cylinders, that forms the greater portion of the carbon deposits. Grit entering the lubicating system, becomes an active abrasive and may ruin the smooth, accurately finished surfaces of the moving machinery.

"In the new 1926 Buicks, the last three avenues through which dirst might enter the engine, namely the gasoline, air and oil channels, have been successfully barricaded," comments C. C. Kratzer Buick dealer.

"Several years ago Buick evolved a sealed chassis—one which is virtually dirt proof. This was done by enclosing practically every moving part so that dirt or water could not find its way in. This has been perfected to such an extent that when a Buick chassis is driven with body and hood removed movement can be detected at only eight points. Four of these are the wheels on which the chassis runs. The other four are the fan, fan belt fan pulley and the water pump shaft. Every other working part is enclosed from view and dirt.

"Now Buick has closed the three remaining ways by which dirt could reach the motor. This has been done by means of three simple but effective appliances—an air cleaner, an oil filter, and a gasoline strainer. These latest and most necessary accessories have no moving parts to get out of order or require adjustment and each performs its functions automatically."
